

EWTN. The Largest Catholic Media Organization in the World.

Our Expanding Mission for Christ's Message

EWTN reaches the world with a message of Truth, delivering Catholic programming and news to over 440 million TV homes in 13 languages to 160 countries. Our 17 websites have over 80 million users and 200 million pageviews a year, and our social media outlets get more than 1.8 billion impressions. EWTN also has a publishing division, and our radio network provides free Catholic programming to millions of people around the globe. EWTN's mission remains the same: Teach the truth of the Gospel as defined by the Magisterium of the Roman Catholic Church. With the Holy Father's call for all to participate within a new evangelization, EWTN is dedicated to helping people discover the beauty of the Catholic Church.

Mother Mary Angelica, EWTN Foundress, receives the blessing of Pope Saint John Paul II after the launch of EWTN August 15, 1981. EWTN is now the world's largest Catholic media organization, reaching more than 440 million television homes around the world.

One Gutsy Nun

In 1981, Mother Angelica decided to "do the ridiculous, so that God could do the miraculous" by transforming the Poor Clares' monastery garage in Birmingham, Alabama, into a fully functioning Catholic television station.

Through the prayer and financial support of the Poor Clare Nuns and donors alike, the Eternal Word Television Network (EWTN) would grow into the largest Catholic media organization in the world.
